FEUDAL CASE ASSIGNED

Case of Breathitt Men Charged With Abner Murder Set for Trial December 7th.

BYRD TO ASSIST FRANKLIN

Judge Stout Instructs Grand Jury on Infractions of Minor Laws —Stafford Case Passed.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Hacker Combs, Jas. Deaton and John and Thomas Davidson, assigned to the Bourbon Circuit Court on a change of venue from the Breathitt Circuit Court was set for trial in the Bourbon court by Judge R. L. Stout on Wednesday, December 7. The four defendants were indicted jointly for the murder of John Abner in Jackson last summer.

Hon. A. Floyd Byrd of Winchester, who prosecuted Abner in the Breathitt court on several indictments, will assist Col. R. B. Franklin in the prosecution of the noted feudist's alleged slayers. The four defendants were present in court when their names were called.

Col. Franklin arose upon the call of motion hour and stated to the court that the papers in the case had been received by Clerk W. H. Webb by registered mail on the afternoon of November 3, and he asked that they be allowed to go to record, that the cases be docketed and a day assigned when they might be tried.

Former Circuit Judge J. P. Adams of the Breathitt Circuit Court, and A. H. Paton of Jackson were introduced to the court by Judge Denis Dundon as attorneys for the defendants whereupon they took the oath. Judge Dundon has been engaged in the case as one of the attorneys for the defendants.

Col. Franklin further stated to the court that as many as forty witnesses would be introduced by the prosecution and that he understood as many as twenty witnesses would be on hand to testify in behalf of the defendants and asked that at least one week be given the attorneys to look into the case. After an expression of opinion from the attorneys for the defense Judge Stout assigned the case for trial on December 7 and indicated that the defendants would be tried jointly.

Judge Stout convened court at ten o'clock a. m. and after the reading of the minutes impaneled the grand jury which is composed as follows: William Hall, J. W. Larkin, R. E. Bedford, G. C. Hadden, B. F. Hopkins, Willis Boston, Frank P. White, William Piper, V. W. Ferguson, Wyatt Thompson, F. P. Lowry and Swift Champ.

Judge Stout then delivered his charge to the grand jury. He laid special stress upon the infractions of the minor laws and declared that their violation was but a graduation in criminology. The enormity of a crime for murder, he said, forced itself upon the attention of grand juries but that it was his experience that to get at the root of the evil through probe was necessary to uncover the identity of those who violate the minor laws. Judge Stout asked the grand jury to inquire diligently into the violation of liquor laws, gaming, vagrancy and the carrying of deadly weapons concealed. Mr. Ferguson was appointed foreman of the grand jury.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Cleveland Stafford which was set for trial Tuesday Judge Harmon Stitt stated to the court that the defendant's attorney, Judge Samuel Holmes, of Carlisle, was detained on account of the death of a relative and asked that the case be passed till the latter part of the week to which Col. Franklin assented. Judge Stitt asked that his employment as an attorney in the case or the defendant be noted.

High School Team Defeats Winchester.

In the final game of the season the football team of the Paris High School outclassed the team from Winchester High School and won by a score of 38 to 0 in this city Saturday afternoon.

The game was entirely too one-sided to be of interest. From the length as well as from the frequency of the end runs and forward passes, it would have been indicative neither of ignorance nor of an unsound mind, for one to have inquired whether he was witnessing a match game of football or a game of "fox and hounds."

The members of the Paris aggregation that merit the distinction of being classified with the family of canine mammals known as foxes are Rassenfoss, with one 90 yard run and several others of more or less length to his credit; Douglas, who made one of 75 yards; Barbee for 50 and G. C. Thompson for 40.

In spite of the results the Winchester boys put up a clean hard fight and would have been much more troublesome had they been coached properly. The record made by the foot ball team of the Paris High School for the season of 1910 is as follows:

Paris High School, 12; Paris Academy, 0.
Paris High School, 0; K. C. B. C., 0.
Paris High School, 17; Caldwell High School, 16.
Paris High School, 2; Clay's Business College, 0.
Paris High School, 23; Cynthia High School, 6.
Paris High School, 0; Richmond High School, 5.
Paris High School, 0; Frankfort High School, 10.
Paris High School, 38; Winchester High School, 0.
